MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Director, Intelligence Community StaffFROM: Eloise R. Page
Chairman, Critical Intelligence Problems Committee

SUBJECT: Combat Intelligence Analysis Report [REDACTED]

25X1

1. Attached for your information is a copy of the report on Combat Intelligence Analysis approved by the CIPC on 25 March 1985. This report was requested by the Director, National Security Agency. [REDACTED]

25X1

2. The report is intended to be responsive to Community concern that the intelligence structure being developed to support the wartime intelligence needs of US commanders proceed along well-coordinated lines. As you will note, the 12-man task force which drafted this report reviewed the coordination process in some depth, and reached agreement on a number of recommendations aimed at its improvement. [REDACTED]

25X1

3. Although the CIPC approved this report without reservation, several members expressed their conviction that the Intelligence Community should continue to maintain a close degree of scrutiny over the whole spectrum of combat intelligence support to the US military commands. This sentiment was endorsed by all the members. The Defense Intelligence Agency, which has assumed the responsibility for implementing the recommendations contained in this report, was encouraged to pursue these tasks with even more vigor than in the past and to keep the Intelligence Community informed of its progress. [REDACTED]

25X1

4. The report concludes that the CIPC should not undertake a more detailed study of this issue, noting that the subject is more appropriate for consideration and review by the Department of Defense. [REDACTED]

25X1

1. Attached is the report on Combat Intelligence Analysis, as approved by the CIPC on 25 March 1985. As you will note, it is intended to be responsive to the Community's concerns over this issue, with particular emphasis on the coordination process involved in providing intelligence support to US military commanders. [REDACTED]

25X1

2. The task force which developed the report concluded that certain aspects of the combat intelligence issue were outside its scope of discussion. However, in presenting the report to the CIPC, the Chairman of the task force reflected the conviction of the group that a close review needed to be maintained over the whole spectrum of combat intelligence support. In the discussion of the report which followed, this sentiment was echoed by the CIPC members. Moreover, the members urged the DIA to keep the Intelligence Community informed of its progress in developing the combat intelligence support mechanism. [REDACTED]

25X1

3. The Committee members owe you a debt of gratitude for taking the initiative in bringing this issue to the table. In particular, I would like to extend my thanks to the NSA representative on the task force, [REDACTED] whose experience and provocative insights contributed significantly to the task force report.
